

Goldman Sachs Marquee

The Digital Storefront for Institutional Client Services

Who we are

Marquee is the digital storefront for institutional client services, delivering Goldman Sachs' market insights, analytical tools, execution services, and developer and data services directly to clients via an integrated digital platform.

What we do

Marquee Engineers build, deploy and oversee the digital products, tools and services offered through Marquee. Built atop a cross-asset infrastructure designed from scratch, Marquee is designed to deliver Goldman Sachs' intellectual property flexibly through desktop, web, mobile or programmatically via APIs.

Marquee Developer API

Marquee originated with Engineers and retains a strong developer-focused culture. Today, Marquee features the world's most comprehensive institutional API offering through its developer platform, allowing clients to incorporate the full range of Goldman Sachs services within their own applications and processes.
